

Most home-made things are good—but draw the line at home-made wine and home-mixed cocktails. Have a bottle of club cocktails on the ice, so you need not dilute the flavor by shaking."

The Examiner doesn't print booze ads. It confines itself to cutrate wine and beer. It also runs malt marrow ads. But the Examiner makes it up by printing all the patent medicine boosters, the land game "come-ons" and the ads of the doctors who cure "without a knife and without pain."

The Trib seems to have a peculiar sense of the fitness of things in the way they make up their pages. On the church page yesterday there appeared a picture of an attractive young lady clothed in her nightgown. It was an ad for yokes. On the same page appeared an ad of a system to take hair from under ladies' arms.

G. O. P. POLITICAL BUNK

Charley Wheeler of The Trib had a story this morning to the effect that Fred Lundin, saddened by the defeat of Harry Miller, had quit politics; that Thompson would run for U. S. senator if Frank Lowden gets behind him or would retire from politics if Lowden did not and also that Charley Deneen would run for senator in 1918 regardless of what Lowden does.

The wise ones of the City Hall say that Sam Ettelson, and not Fred Lundin, has been the real Thompson boss of late; that Lowden's Big Business pals would never stand for the gov.-elect endorsing Big Bill for the senate, and that Thompson was about through as a winning politician.

London editors commend government control of the British food supply and are hot for making the rich eat what the poor will have to. Another move toward democracy. Anyhow, all stomachs are democratic when it comes to the pinch.

JUDGE TRUDE GRANTS CHANGE OF VENUE TO BROWN

Judge Trude today granted a change of venue to W. B. Brown, manager of the City News Bureau, charged with criminal libel because the bureau, which supplies the city news to all loop papers, handled an alleged interview with MacIay Hoyne which Chief Municipal Justice Harry Olson considered libeled him.

Judge Trude refused the plea of Brown's attorney to transfer the case into the Circuit or Superior courts. He transferred it to Judge Chas. H. Bowles of Chicago Heights. Judge Bowles has probably done more work as an extra judge in municipal courts than any other country judge. Because of this Att'y Tomilson, for Brown, took an exception to the change of venue to Judge Bowles.

Att'y Lee, for Judge Olson, was denied his plea for the appointment of a special attorney.
